Collins asks for Jacobs resignation

Jr. high, grade school, CHS in bond issue plan

The Canyon School Board voted Tuesday night to ask district voters to approve a $5.5 million bond issue to finance construction of a new elementary school and a new junior high school in the north part of the district.

The vote climaxed a month of meetings held following the Dec. 3 defeat of a $6 million bond issue for construction of a new elementary school and a new high school in the north part of the district.

Voters will consider the $5.5 million proposal, which includes funding for a 300-student addition to Canyon High School, at a Feb. 17 special bond issue election.

In voting to submit the $5.5 million package to voters, the school board Tuesday night rejected an alternative proposal made by Stan Collins, leader of the opposition to the bond issue propositions.

Collins, who during a pre-meeting press conference Tuesday called for the resignation of Supt. Jerry Jacobs, repeated that call Wednesday morning in the wake of the board's action.

Collins charged Jacobs with incompetency during the press conference and during the board meeting. He reiterated his charge Wednesday.

He based his charge, he said, on construction cost figures for a modified-open classroom elementary school recently completed in Lubbock.

The proposition which will be on the Feb. 17 ballot calls for: "Construction of a 450-550-student elementary school at a cost of $1,402,000

"Construction of a 600-700-student junior high school for 7th, 8th and 9th graders at a cost of $2,801,500

"Construction of a 300-student addition, along with remodeling, at Canyon High School at a cost of $1,540,400

The new elementary school and junior high school would be located in the north part of the school district.

The proposal for a new junior high was a surprise addition to the former list of three proposals for new school construction. It was added to the list of possible proposals during a special called meeting Monday night.

Other proposals had been for construction of a new elementary school and varying additions to CHS with the possibility of construction of a new middle school for 7th and 8th graders.

Only Board Member Ed Wieck of Umbarger abstained from a vote on the motion by Richard Pruett that the proposition be adopted.

"I would go with proposition number 4 (the one which passed)," Pruett said following the two-hour discussion of proposals and Collins' charges. "It's the one I like and I'd like to make a decision on it tonight."

Harold Erwin agreed and seconded the motion.

After that motion passed, Pruett moved that the three-school proposal be submitted to voters as a package for $5.5 million, but Roscoe Richardson argued for submitting each school separately.

The vote was split, 4-2.

The actual cost total which will appear on the ballot for the bond issue will be $5,495,000.

Collins, during a pre-meeting press conference and during the meeting, showed pictures of the Nat Williams Elementary School in Lubbock, a school he said houses 600 students and was constructed beginning in April 1974 at a cost of $822,907.

Collins contended that if a 20 percent price hike factor were added to that figure, the school would cost to build today about $1640 per student. The school contains 36,000 square feet.

He said the proposed $1.4 million elementary school planned for the Canyon district is projected to cost about $2550 per student.

"This cost certainly does challenge his (Jacobs') competency," Collins told board members. "If you decided the school district needed a specially equipped pickup and he came in here with a proposal for a pickup for $9300 and you found out that the school system in Lubbock had just bought a comparably equipped (See SCHOOL, Page 7)

City raises water, sewer rates

By LAURIE TELFAIR

Apparently unaware of what they had done when they did it, City Commissioners Wednesday night set new water rates for city users which will increase charges by more than the amount City Manager Glen Metcalf had recommended.

Mayor Manly Bryan, when informed of what effect commission action will have on water rates, indicated late Wednesday he will talk with other commissioners today about a possible special emergency meeting this week to review the Wednesday action.

Commissioners ignored a Metcalf warning in that action that a flat water rate for all users would discourage water conservation and might not produce enough revenue for capital improvements and voted to increase the minimum water rate to $3.25 for the first 3000 gallons and 70 cents per thousand gallons for each thousand.

Metcalf had proposed that the city retain its present $3 minimum for users of the first 3000 gallons with an escalating scale for rates for users of more than the minimum.

Under the rate schedule adopted Wednesday night, the city user who is charged for 9000 gallons of water usage in a month will have a bill of $7.45. If commissioners had accepted Metcalf's proposal, the user of 9000 gallons would have been charged $6.60.

Figures indicate the user of 15,000 and 20,000 gallons of water per month will also be charged more under the city-adopted schedule than they originally would have under the Metcalf proposal.

Commissioners rejected Metcalf's proposal ostensibly because of protests from three mobile home park and apartment house owners who said the Metcalf plan would cost their renters more money each month.

Bryan said late Wednesday commissioners were apparently not aware of the effect their plan would have.

Even Metcalf's proposals were sharply decreased from earlier plans.

The commissioners also set new rates for sewer and sanitation charges that were reduced from the increases asked earlier by Metcalf. Sanitation charges will be upped from the present $1.50 to $4.25, which is 14 cents less than Metcalf asked and sewer rates will go from $1.50 to $2 per month. Metcalf earlier asked for a $3 sewer charge but changed his request to $2 in an attempt to provide a smaller increase on the minimum bill.

The commissioners set the flat rate after three mobile home park and apartment house owners protested the escalating rate for multiple units served by one water meter.

Recil Johnson, Snookie Lindemann and Tom Beard told the board that they would have to raise rates by about $15 a month to each tenant because they will be paying the highest rate for water. "I think there is discrimination going on," Beard told the commissioners. "You charge the college one rate and us another and you say that they're under contract. I'll be glad to sign a contract with you for those rates."

The commissioners in December, approved a two year contract with West Texas State University to provide water at a flat rate of 38 cents per thousand gallons.

Metcalf told the commissioners that multiple units had been receiving city services at a reduced rate for years. He estimated that they were being provided sewer service and trash pickup for 25 cents each a trailer and because of the sliding scale for water, had been paying the cheapest water rate.

By presenting his scaled down proposal Wednesday night, Metcalf extended his original five-year plan for capital improvements to eight or ten years and abandoned any plans for capital improvements on the sewer system without a bond issue or other additional revenue sources.

With the 14 cent reduction voted Wednesday, Metcalf said he may not be able to implement the containerization in six years as he had planned.

Charles Thrasher, with sign, and a partner, Janice Newton, found summer in mid-January last Saturday and they decided to take advantage of the warmer-than-usual weather to go into business. "Limonaid" and "limonlime" sold for only a dime.

When he was shot by Stevens

Youth says he wanted loaned necklace

A 17-year-old Canyon youth told Justice of the Peace W.A. Wilson Tuesday he had gone to the Buffalo Motel on Dec. 26 to retrieve a loaned necklace when he was shot at close range by J.C. Stevens.

"He said: 'I'll teach you to mess with my daughter,' and then he shot me," Douglas Craig Johnson of 414 Foster Lane told the judge during a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

Wilson determined after the hearing that evidence was sufficient to bind Stevens over to the grand jury on a charge of attempted murder in the day-after-Christmas incident.

Johnson testified on direct examination by Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod that he had talked with Stevens' daughter, Gloria, and another girl, at a local arcade about 10 p.m. on Christmas day and that Gloria had asked to look at a necklace he was wearing.

He said he removed the necklace from his neck and, in the course of the evening, forgot he had loaned it to Miss Stevens.

He said he noticed he didn't have his necklace about 12:30 a.m. Dec. 26 when he began to dress to go to bed at his home.

Johnson testified that he called the home of Stevens about 12:45 a.m. that day in an effort to find Gloria and retrieve the necklace.

"I called and asked if Gloria was there," Johnson testified. "He asked if I knew what time it was. I said yes, but I had to get my necklace back and he said never to call his home that late again."

Johnson said he understood

Gloria and another girl, Kari Moore, were to spend the night together that evening, so he went by car to the Buffalo Motel where Kari lives to get the necklace.

At the motel he learned that the girls had not yet come in and went to the arcade again to find them, he said. While at the closed arcade, he talked a few minutes with a Canyon policeman and then returned to the motel.

"When I got to the motel, the door was locked, and he (Stevens) let me in," Johnson said. "Kari Moore was behind the counter and he was in front of the counter and she asked me if I had come to get my necklace. I said yes."

At that point, Johnson said, Miss Moore began to take off the necklace "and Mr. Stevens turned to face me and he asked me if I was the person who'd called his house and I said yes and he pulled out the gun and fired."

Johnson said the gun barrel was about nine inches from his stomach when the shot was fired.

He said he did not see from where Stevens pulled the gun.

The youth testified he was hit on the left side of the abdomen by the round.

"After that, he walked behind the counter of the motel and he said 'don't worry, he'll be all right' to Kari Moore," Johnson said.

On cross examination by Stevens' attorney Jim Brown, Johnson testified that Stevens had not cursed him or threatened him before the firing of the shot. He said he had not cursed or threatened Stevens.

Other witnesses during the hearing included Milton Johnson and Mrs. Milton Johnson, parents of the youth, who testified they heard young Johnson make a phone call about 12:45 p.m.

Both witnesses said they heard young Johnson tell the party on the phone that his name was Richard.

'More positive promotion, too'

Recreation need, chamber told

A need for community recreation facilities and a more positive promotion of Canyon were two of the themes struck at a town meeting held Monday night by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

About 30 persons attended the meeting called by the Chamber officers and directors to see what kinds of needs and programs the community wants and to hear complaints about the Chamber.

They got both praise and complaints. Harris "Jack" Davis of Umbarger said "The Chamber of Commerce can be an organized effort to be state and stagnant... We say we want progress... But I haven't heard any programs mentioned... Show me something."

Steve Hines urged the Chamber to offer more encouragement to persons starting a new business.

"For every one person who comes by to encourage you, there are four who say 'man, you'll never make it,'" he said.

Suggestions were wide-ranging. Several centered on dressing up the town for the TEXAS production. Troy Martin suggested hosting a melodrama or similar entertainment downtown during the summer to attract tourists into the shopping area and Linda Cooper urged placing banners across the streets, in addition to the Texas flags.

"Let's make the town look festive, from the start of TEXAS till the end," she said.

Robert O'Donnell and Cristler Crain were among those who suggested the Chamber sponsor a food and fiber show, similar to shows held in the schools several years ago.

"Anything you can do to make the consumer aware of the problems present in agriculture and what could happen if consumer and producer don't get together," O'Donnell said.

The lack of highway signs promoting the university was pointed out by Jim Irwin, who also urged the Chamber to consider (See CHAMBER, Page 7)

Johnson testified that he called the home of Stevens about 12:45 a.m. that day in an effort to find Gloria and retrieve the necklace.

Metro board seeking New Mexico link-up

Governors of the Potter-Randall Metro Intelligence Unit are seeking a formal link-up with Eastern New Mexico law enforcement officers to form organized crime unit to control drug and criminal activity in the two-state area.

Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest, chairman of the metro unit board, said he and other members of the board have discussed the possibility of forming a liaison unit to coordinate investigations, trade information, undercover agents and equipment.

If New Mexico agencies agree to the proposal, he said, funding for the super-unit would be assured by the Texas Criminal Justice Council for the Texas portion of the project.

If the liaison effort is not approved and organized before midsummer, funding for the metro unit will be substantially reduced and the bulk of the funding will be the responsibility of local units of government, he said.

Longest said cooperation with New Mexico in a super crime-fighting unit would be a unique accomplishment in the state and would also give Amarillo area law enforcement agencies needed additional information on criminal activities.

"The biggest part of our traffic is coming from that direction (New Mexico)," he said. "For us, the information we'd get, since most of our traffic comes from that way, would really help us a lot."

Longest said he and other members of the metro unit board have met with officials from Clovis, Tucuman, Raton, Clayton and Artesia to aid them in establishing local metropolitan crime units and to discuss the two-state joint effort.

If the projected program is approved in New Mexico, and Austin, Longest said, an overall coordinating board consisting of law enforcement officers from both states would oversee the super unit's activities. An overall coordinator for each state would also be appointed.

"The people in Austin are really interested in it," he said. "I think it would be great really. I can't see that it would do anything but help us. With a combined (See METRO, Page 7)

Co-op protest set for Feb. hearing

Representatives of Canyon's Co-op will go to Austin in late February to protest a local decision that the cooperative owes nearly $10,000 in back sales taxes to the state.

Co-op Attorney Jim Brown said a hearing on the protest has been set for Feb. 25 in Austin before an examining officer of the state comptroller's office.

Since last fall, the coop has contended that a decision made by two comptroller's office auditors that the coop owes back taxes for some products sold to farmers over the past few years was based on caprice and not state law.

The controversy involves items the co-op sells to farmers, who must sign an affidavit swearing the products will be used exclusively on farm or ranch.

The co-op contends, and a press release from State Comptroller Bob Bullock backed the contention recently, that state law absolves the co-op of responsibility for sales tax so long as the required affidavit is filed.

Brown said auditors contend the co-op cannot sell any item without charging sales tax unless the item was manufactured exclusively for use on a farm or ranch. He interprets the law to mean the item will not be tax exempt unless the farmer or rancher swears it will be used exclusively on farm or ranch.

Canyon's tall girl, Robena Johnson, goes up for two points during Tuesday night Girl Eagle action against Levelland. The girls won 94-45 in the district outing as the Eagles added another victory to their winning season. The girls under Coach Bob Schneider hope to repeat their performances of the last half dozen years and head for the State championship.

Both witnesses said they heard young Johnson tell the party on the phone that his name was Richard.

I would never have been granted my first college degree if I had said in class what I thought when an Education professor said that federal aid to schools did not mean federal control of schools.

Drought-stricken wheat needs rain immediately

Randall County Agent John Brazzil's not yet ready to throw in the towel on the 1976 wheat crop, but he's not particularly optimistic about the effects of continued dry weather.

Drought conditions since midsummer have led to poor growth, a weakened plant and a bleak outlook for the crop.

"We are very dry," Brazzil said this week. "The wheat is in all kinds of conditions."

"We have our normal acreage of irrigated wheat and even it is relatively slow to grow because there's been no help from rain. Irrigation just keeps it going and alive."

The bulk of the wheat in Randall County is dryland, he said, and the dryland wheat is suffering from the moisture lack.

"We've probably lost some stands on many fields," he said.

"Some plants that were growing are dehydrated beyond recovery."

The lack of moisture, according to Brazzil, has weakened the normally tough winter wheat plant to a condition of intolerance to cold weather and spring winds.

So far in January, according to Canyon weather bureau officials, the Randall County area has received no moisture. In December, the city received .07 of an inch of moisture in the form of snow. While August produced 8 inches of moisture, September, October and November saw barely a trace.

Heavy and continuous rainfall soon could help some of the wheat in the county, Brazzil says, but time is rapidly waning when the moisture will be adequate to meet the needs of the crop.

"Whether or not we get moisture in time to help the crop, it will be late," he said. "We have a very weak plant with low subsoil moisture. These things could change dramatically but it's time for a change."

Should rainfall continue to elude the county's wheat farmers, Bill Castiel of the USDA Soil Conservation Service says they'll be facing some tough decisions come spring.

High winds traditional to Panhandle springs can further damage the weakened wheat plants, he said, and many farmers may face a decision of whether to practice good erosion-halting techniques or take a chance on a minimum of erosion to save a wheat crop.

Issue includes new jr. high, grade school, CHS addition Canyon School Board members decided Tuesday night to put before the public a $5.5 million bond issue for construction of two new schools and an addition to Canyon High School.

The data presented here is compiled by the school district staff and indicates the size of the building, the number of students each is to handle and the total cost.

Not presented here is the student, size and cost information on a proposed new elementary school. The school, to be located in the north part of the district on an unnamed site, will cost about $1.4 million and will handle about 450-550 students. Further information on the elementary school was listed in the Sunday issue of The News.

County buys five cars, asks for bids

The county bought five new cars and authorized bids for two more vehicles Monday at the weekly meeting of commissioners court.

Randall County commissioners approved a bid for five new patrol cars for the Sheriff's Department of $21,649.25 from Imperial Chevrolet of Canyon. Four old patrol cars will be traded in. Four other firms bid on the vehicles.

They also authorized Harold Mann to advertise for bids on one small car and one medium sized car for the juvenile probation department to replace two older cars now being used.

The commissioners voted to change the beginning of the fiscal year from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1 to coincide with the tax collection period that runs from October through December.

They set a flat mileage rate for all county employees of 15 cents a mile, eliminating rates that ranged from 10 to 25 cents.

The board approved the purchase of a three-year policy for liability insurance for elected officials for $8,125 prepaid for three years.

The annual selection of a salary grievance committee, drawn from the list of grand jurors of the previous year, was made Monday. Selected to the committee, which has never met, were John O'Brian, Paul Walker and R.L. Dowell, all of Amarillo.

The commissioners agreed, after considerable discussion, to a salary increase for appraiser Greg Monroe to $750 a month. The pay hike came in response to a letter, presumably from Monroe although the commissioners did not identify the writer in the meeting. County tax appraiser John Carrington was called to the meeting to outline Monroe's duties and skill as an appraiser to the board.

The commissioners also approved the hiring of a work study student for the records department of the sheriff's office and authorized tax assessor-collector Audrey Bruse to rent three typewriters, hire 11 temporary workers for the motor vehicle registration period and purchase a $3 transcript of a voter registration law seminar she attended. They told her to get prices on two additional adding machines and authorized her to have another telephone installed.

The commissioners recessed for about half an hour during the four-hour long meeting to inspect the new 6,000 gallon tanker the county recently purchased for the fire department and to tour the new fire station.

Two new portable classrooms are going up at the high school. Students in the building trades classes are constructing the units adjoining the vocational building.

'Secret' promotion includes cash gifts

Twenty-two Canyon merchants have a "secret" sale planned for the first Monday next month with the purchase of "secret" items entitling customers to cash prizes on February 2.

Each participating merchant will select their own "secret" items from among merchandise advertised as First Monday specials in the February 1 issue of Canyon Sunday News.

Customers will learn if their special is a "secret" selection from the salesperson after the purchase is completed, according to the rules of the promotion. All customers purchasing "secrets" will be awarded cash prizes.

City merchants involved in the promotion are Johnston's Trustworthy Hardware; Tweedledee; Williams, Etc.; Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio; Towne Shoppe; Anthony's; West Texas Western Store; Carriage House Shoes; The Jewelry Store; Linde's Fashions; Cheatham Clothiers; Village Shoppe; Deon's; Blue Daisy; Byrd Pharmacy; Lane's TV & Appliance; Thompson's of Canyon, Inc.; Furniture Galleries; Tina's Fashions; Martha June's Gifts & Collectibles; H.R.'s Flowers and Gifts; and The Shell's Pharmacy.

Simpson seeks second term

State Representative Bob Simpson of Amarillo today announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Texas House of Representatives.

Simpson, 32, is now serving his first two-year term as the representative of District 65. He is a life-long resident of Amarillo. He and his wife, Linda, have two sons, Robbie, age 5, and Lee, 23 months. They are members of Polk Street United Methodist Church.

"I consider this an office of high public trust and responsibility," Simpson said in his announcement. "And, I have tried to live up to this trust by providing diligent, effective and responsive representation of the people of Carson, Potter and Randall Counties. I have now compiled a record which I am proud to present for your review."

Simpson was appointed by House Speaker Bill Clayton to serve on the State Affairs Committee and on the Committee on Natural Resources.

"The committee process is the heart of a legislative session. If a committee is doing its job, it will screen out legislation that should not be considered by the full House, and report to the House legislation in a form that is ready to become law. A committee should spend many hours hearing testimony, studying and debating the issues," Simpson said. He said he maintained a perfect attendance record in both of his committees.

Simpson sponsored several bills that were enacted into law. Bills of local interest include an emergency appropriation bill to replace an agricultural teaching building that was destroyed by fire on the West Texas University campus; a bill to eliminate a restriction on the Board of Directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society; a bill to change the boundaries of the Red River Authority; and a bill to allow Randall County residents to utilize the new Randall County Annex in Amarillo more fully. Of state-wide significance, Simpson sponsored legislation that will provide for year-round registration of motor vehicles beginning in 1978, and one to stagger terms of notaries public throughout their two-year term.

"In the next session of the legislature, education will continue to be an issue, and the educational finance program, enacted last session on a temporary basis, will have to be refined into a permanent program," Simpson predicted.

"We will also have the opportunity to review the work of the 'Little Hoover' Commission, and hopefully we can make real progress in reorganizing the state bureaucracy, and eliminating waste. This was one of my primary goals last year, and I think that, finally, Texas is going to make some progress in this area," Simpson said.

"But the most important issue will be whether the Texas Legislature will be able to establish priorities of spending, and keep total appropriation within anticipated income, or whether new or additional taxes will have to be passed. I believe that there is enough fat and waste in state government that with a constant eye toward economy, a third session of the Texas Legislature can be completed with no new taxes," Simpson stated.

Simpson concluded his announcement by stating: "It is an especial honor to be a candidate for public service in this Bicentennial year, when we will all have the opportunity to renew our respect, enthusiasm and participation in the American Experiment of Self-Government."

It takes daily practice to be parent

By KAROLYN FARMER
MAYBE YOU'VE NOTICED by now that I'm a "clique freak." Part of it, I guess, is due to laziness — it's much easier to use an old tried-and-true phrase than it is to think up a semi-brilliant new statement.

Now that each one of our kids is playing something — piano, guitar and basketball — hardly a week goes by that I don't tell them, in my most exasperated tones, that "practice makes perfect."

Of course, they've long since seen the fallacy of that remark. Better, maybe, but certainly not perfect!

As I get more experienced in this business of being a parent, I'm learning the hard way that it's usually what we do, and not what we say, that our children remember.

Being a good parent takes lots of daily practice. Like a pianist, we start out with the rudimentary scales, and hopefully the end result will be a magnificent symphony.

There's no time to go back and replay the wrong notes. But even with an unharmonious chord now and then, we can still enjoy the overall effect.

Practice makes for good citizens, too. Of course, it's time-consuming to attend community, school board and PTA meetings. It's hard work to keep informed of current issues and to help in forming others.

Fortunately, there are lots of good "musicians" in our community who unselfishly contribute their time, abilities and money. The immediate result may not sound like "beautiful music," but if we keep on practicing together, our "harmony" is bound to improve.

This is really a round-about way of saying that I'm personally very grateful for the hard work done by our school board, school administrators, teachers and parents in recent months.

Hopefully we'll all be able to play in our "symphony concert" very soon.

A LOT OF hard work paid off this last week as many mothers and young people in the Gene Howe area participated in the March of Dimes fund-raising drive.

Linda Robinson is the Regional Chairman for the March of Dimes, and Glenna Schmidt is Area Chairman.

The latest figures compiled indicate that $286 has been collected in the Gene Howe area.

with a grand total for the entire district of over $4,000.

A March of Dimes Walkathon will be held on January 31st, beginning at St. Stephen's Methodist Church in Amarillo. If you, as an owner or operator of a business, or even individually would like to sponsor one of the "walkers," please call Linda Robinson at 355-7892 for the details.

Helping to collect the door-to-door donations last week were: Jo Bruffett, Marion Marrs, Georgia Sorrells, Len Schmidt, Carla Schmidt, Deborah Drost, Sandra Hyatt, Gayle Betty, Carolyn Farmer, Mary Lou Enloe, Shirley Jones, Jackie Mayfield, Joan Jolley, Francis Cannon, Barbara Melton, Janette Hale, Mrs. S.W. Thomason, Leslie Bural, and Carolyn Brown.

Linda (Mrs. Terry) Robinson is also working on starting a youth program through the March of Dimes Foundation in our area. The young people will meet once a month and will study and discuss, among other things, causes and means of preventing birth defects.

If you or your children are interested in this program, please contact Linda for more information.

BUSTER AND MARCELLA Carile were honored with a reception on Sunday, January 25th to celebrate their 25th Wedding Anniversary.

Their anniversary is officially on February 3rd, but the special celebration was held early so that their son, Jerry, and his wife, Cindy, could attend. Along with Jerry and Cindy Carile, who now live at Scott Air Force Base in Illinois, Karen and Tim Carile were also present to honor their parent's anniversary.

The reception was held in the First Federal Building in South Amarillo. The serving table featured a three-tiered cake, punch and decorations in colors of green and silver.

Jerry and Cindy's gift to their parents was a sterling silver pitcher, while Karen and Tim presented them with a crystal vase engraved with silver.

Over 100 guests attended the reception for Marcella and Buster. Among them were Buster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Carile of Palisades, and Marcella's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Jackson of Amarillo.

Also attending were Marcella's brothers, B.G. Jackson and Jimmy Jackson and their families, as well as Buster's sister, Margaret Foster, and his brother, Jimmy and his wife.

Margaret Foster and Mrs. John Wikie (the former Betty Watson) were members of Marcella and Buster's wedding party who were also present for their reception.

SUZELLA AND JACK Parsons celebrated their 23rd anniversary last Friday, January 23rd. Suzella said her sixth grade students were really amazed that anyone could be married that long.

MRS. LEO (ELIZABETH) Forrest was in St. Anthony's Hospital last week for surgery. She is now recuperating at their home in Lake Tanglewood, and says she is grateful for the good results from the tests that were made.

SHERRIE CATES, WHO is a den leader coach for Boy Scouts, has been busy holding training sessions for new Cub Scout leaders in our area.

Carol Triplett and Cherry Winters are now the leader and assistant leader of the newly formed Den 7.

Jolene Williams is now the Registered Den Mother of Den 8, assisted by Diane Holland.

The new Den Mother of Den 5 is Virginia Winters, and her assistant is Mary Wilcox.

Many adult leaders from the Gene Howe area will be attending the Boy Scout District Banquet at the National Guard Armory in Amarillo this Thursday night.

day night.

They have been selected to receive several awards for the excellent Scouting program being carried out in this area, and those will be announced in next week's column.

CUBSCOUT PACK 130 held their monthly meeting at Gene Howe School on Thursday, Jan. 22nd. The theme for the meeting was "Knights of the Round Table."

The boys came dressed as knights and enjoyed playing many "knight-type" games during the evening, such as jousting. (Their swords were socks filled with newspapers.)

Among the skits presented by the Cub Scouts was one given by Den 1 entitled "Seven Knights Make One Weak." (One boy was overpowered by the other seven.)

Several awards were presented during the Pack meeting. Mike Cannon and Gary Glenn became Webelos. Kevin Erdman received his Recruiter Badge. Pike Martin was presented his Wolf Badge and a Gold Arrow Point.

Royal Yarbrough and Tommy Wallace both received Gold Arrow Points. Royal Yarbrough, Jay Edwards and Tommy Wallace each received Silver Arrow Points.

OUR SYMPATHIES ARE extended to both Joe and Tom Detten and their families. Their mother, Mrs. Eulalia Detten of Amarillo, died last Wednesday and services were held on Saturday.

GARY BEASLEY, WHO teaches physical education at Gene Howe School, will also be serving as the Gene Howe Campus Coordinator for the Community Education Spring Program.

Some of the classes will begin next Tuesday evening, February 3rd. The courses being offered at Gene Howe, and the teachers are: Basic Drawing, Joyce Boston; Men's Wear Knit Sewing and Lingerie Sewing, Janell Hill; Animal Care, a member of the Ag staff of CHS; First Aid for Students, Eddie Day; Income Tax Seminar, Jess Rhodes; Parent Survival, Dr. Tom Cannon; American Novels, Gail Albracht; Defensive Driving, Walter Eubanks; Macrame, Linda Aldridge; Easter Crafts, Troyce Mulherin; and Money Management, Larry Wall.

There will also be a cheerleading class for girls in Grades 4, 5 and 6, which will be taught by one of the CHS cheerleaders.

Gary Beasley urges everyone to take part in one of these classes. He says if you would like to know more about the content of one of the courses, to please contact that specific teacher.

More information may also be obtained by calling the Community Education Office, 655-2168.

MARGUERITE HUYCK HAS just recently returned home from a visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Sue and Warren Rutherford, and their children, Ty and Tawna.

Marguerite flew to Federal Way, Washington for a month's stay with the Rutherfords. While there, she enjoyed a tour of the Space Needle in Seattle, and also accompanied the Rutherfords on a skiing trip to Mt. Rainier.

GENE HOWE PTA will meet on Monday night, February 2nd, at 7:00. The very special program will be presented by the 6th Graders under the direction of Margie Phillips and J.W. King.

The theme of the program is the Bicentennial. I was privileged to see it presented to the students of the school on Veteran's Day, and it's really exceptional.

So please plan to attend. Believe me, it will definitely stir up your "patriotic blood."

THE ANNUAL VARIETY Show is set for Monday, February 9th at Gene Howe. Boys and girls of all ages (and maybe some parents) will be performing. The proceeds from the show will be used by the 6th Graders for their gift to the school.

JANE (MRS. JERRY) DAVIS underwent surgery on Monday and will be hospitalized for the remainder of this week. Jane is in Northwest Texas Hospital, Room 758.

AILEEN AND R.T. REEVES and their children, Gena and Mark, moved back to the Gene Howe area the first week in January. Gena is six years old and is in Mrs. Tillinghast's first grade class. Mark, who is 12, is in Mrs. Parsons' sixth grade class.

Aileen is employed by Drs. Carroll, Stout and Cotton. R.T. is the new car manager for Brown Pontiac.

The Reeves family likes all kinds of sports. Mark is on the 6th Grade basketball team at Gene Howe. Gena's favorite interest is taking dancing lessons.

KENNETH AND BETTY Watts, Robin and Kenny are new residents of the Gene Howe area, having moved from Albuquerque, N.M. right after Christmas. The Watts now live in Estacado Estates.

Kenneth Watts is a driver for Greyhound Bus Company. Robin, who is six years old, is in Mrs. Niemier's first grade room.

Kenny is ten years old and in Mrs. Smith's fifth grade class. The Watts family especially enjoys riding in their dune buggy, but have yet to try out our Texas "sand dunes."

THE KINDERGARTEN STUDENTS at Gene Howe received a special treat last week as part of their study of Hawaii.

Emily Jones, the wife of Dr. James B. Jones, of Lake Tanglewood, came to school on Thursday to speak to both the morning and afternoon classes. Emily was dressed in a lovely mumu, as were the kindergarten teachers, Pam Layman and Anita Harp. Several of the children also dressed for the occasion, adorned with varied Hawaiian clothes and jewelry.

The children listened intently (for kindergarteners, anyway), as Emily told them the history of the islands and the people who settled there.

Born and raised on the island of Oahu, Emily also told how her great-grandfather, a French whale boat captain, married a Polynesian girl of Moari ancestry and came to Hawaii to live.

The children enjoyed hearing how the Hawaiian people make use of their natural resources to make jewelry, cooking utensils and homes.

Everyone had fun doing the hula with Emily. They all called out "aloha" to each other at the conclusion of Mrs. Jones' presentation.

Mrs. Bob Carthel, the mother of Jana, along with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Blevins of Grand Junction, Colorado were among the adult spectators during the Hawaiian program.

Mr. and Mrs. Blevins, who are visiting the Carthels on their way to a vacation in California, told me that they had been to Hawaii twice and really enjoyed listening to Emily tell about it.

THE 6TH GRADE Boys' basketball team played two games last week. They won an exciting game against Whittier by a score of 26 to 25. The winning basket was made in the last few seconds of the game.

The boys, coached by Royal Yarbrough, also won their game against a team from St. Mary's by 26 to 8.

They were to have played their next game this Friday, but the opposing team has disbanded. So the 6th graders plan to play (and beat) their fathers in a special "non-conference" game.

AS I WRITE this column, I still don't know what the School Board's decision is concerning the next bond issue election. But whatever proposal they choose to present to the voters, please make every effort to find out the facts, and please vote on February 17th.

CANYON SCHOOL DISTRICT TAXPAYERS

VOTE "NO" FEB. 17th

TO THE NEW SCHOOL BONDS

$5.5 MILLION BLANK CHECK!

What will it buy? We've seen little of plans or details and they won't even tell us where the elementary school is to be located!

COST PER STUDENT TOO HIGH!

Lubbock School District has recently completed their Williams Elementary School at 4812 58th Street in Lubbock. This is a conventional brick building with steel roof joists, Gypsum roof deck and is fully air conditioned and furnished.

LET'S SEE HOW OUR ADMINISTRATION AND SCHOOL BOARDS PROPOSED COST COMPARES WITH THE ACTUAL COST OF THIS FINE NEW SCHOOL:

* CANYON, elementary school to cost $1,402,740.
÷ 42,000 sq. ft.	= 33.40 sq. ft.
(1,402,740 ÷ 550 students = $2,550. per student)
* LUBBOCK, elementary school actual $822,907
÷ 36,062 sq. ft. = per sq. ft.	22.82
If we add 20% for inflation, etc.	4.56
Projected today's cost $987,488	= 27.38 sq. ft.
(987,488 ÷ 600 students = $1,646. per student)

Difference in per student cost $904.00 (55% too high)
Difference in per sq. ft. cost 6.02 (22% too high)

* NOTE: Canyon's proposal to use more square footage to educate fewer students is an indication of poor and wasteful planning. Wasteful planning that C.I.S.D. taxpayers cannot afford.

COST OF OTHER SCHOOLS EVEN HIGHER!

Proposed cost of the new junior high for 700-500 students $2,801,000. = $4,001.00 per student.

Proposed addition to Canyon High School for 300 students $1,540,000. = $5,133.00 per student.

* NOTE: A prudent budgeted figure for cost per student of these two schools should be about $3,000.00 per student.

HIGHER TAXES FOR ALL!

The 150% tax valuation increase (from 40% to 100%) and the increase in necessary taxes to pay for these overpriced schools will more than wipe out the belated home-stead exemption of $3,000. valuation granted to our senior citizens and will cost us all on our homes, farms, business and personal property.

LET AMARILLO SPEND MONEY!

To educate the children expected to materialize in the now largely undeveloped area west of the Canyon Expressway southwest of Amarillo.

CANYON SCHOOL TAXPAYERS!

If you want to participate in an effort against this exorbitant bond issue, we invite you to invest a few of the tax dollars we hope to save you.

The proponents will spend thousands of taxpayers' and private dollars to "ram these schools down our throats." We need just a few hundred to inform the taxpayers. Contributions of from $5 to $100 is needed from a few concerned taxpayers and we will not publish your name if you request; however, such contributions must not exceed $50 as required by law.

effort of two units I don't see how it could be anything but good."

Longest said if the joint effort is successful, Austin officials have said full funding for the unit for four years would be available.

The current grant for the metro unit runs out June 30, 1976, and following that, he said, funds for 25 per cent of the operations costs of the unit will be available from the state.

The metro unit, which includes law enforcement officers from Amarillo, Canyon, Potter, Randall and Deaf Smith counties, has been in existence in the metropolitan area for about six years.

At once a controversial joint effort, Longest and unit coordinator Jim Davis reported Monday at a board of governor's meeting that the unit has recently undergone state evaluation and been found to be an effective crime-fighting force.

Chamber. . .

housing as the area's third industry.

"Canyon is going to be a bedroom-type community," he said. "You've got the college and you've got agriculture and I think you ought to start thinking of housing as your other industry and promote that."

"With the city water rate structure, it is discouraging to industry and the gas rate — I don't know if you know it but you're paying three and a half times the gas rate that Amarillo is, so if you're thinking of encouraging light industry here, forget it," said Irwin.

Irwin said needs of the area included parks and recreation and long range planning for zoning and annexing areas.

"But maybe that isn't a Chamber function," he said.

Both Crain and Irwin suggested that the Chamber include all Randall County.

Answering criticism of the Chamber's past activities, Martin said "We've got the largest state park in Texas and the Chamber of Commerce has played an important part in getting things out there. The Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in bringing into being one of the great outdoor dramas in this country and Canyon merchants put up the seed money for that. We raised $17,000 for the purchase of the Nance ranch."

"We need a more positive attitude," Martin went on. "What our main problem is, is the pinch penny member of the Chamber. We need to raise the dues and then expect something for our money."

C of C president Don Johnston told the group that membership dues amounted to less than $10,000 a year.

Steve Remlinger, in charge of membership, told the group that the Chamber would begin a monthly newsletter and would schedule a calendar of events to work toward throughout the year.

Taxpayers face penalty on late pay

Local taxpayers have two more days to pay their taxes before they are charged penalty and interest for late payments.

All taxes are due in the Randall County, City of Canyon and Canyon School District tax offices by Saturday.

New regent chairman says:

"Support without total involvement important"

The new chairman of the West Texas State University board of regents believes the board's proper role is to oversee and support administration without getting overly involved in the nuts and bolts operation of the university.

Jack Shelton, an Amarillo and New Mexico cattleman and rancher, was elected chairman of the board Monday by fellow regents in a Canyon board meeting.

As a result of two separate actions Monday by regents, the university gained new and renewed leadership.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president for nearly three years, was given a new four-year contract following a lengthy executive session Monday.

Shelton and Watkins indicated in interviews Monday and Tuesday their concerns about the university and their priorities coincide.

"My role is to be an extension of the board itself," Shelton said from his New Mexico ranch. "I've always thought the board should support the administration as long as it can and let the administration do its job. I think the board can become too involved in the university routine, although it's their obligation to oversee everything."

"But, we should put it in the hands of the administration and watch and see how they do."

Shelton, who has served a little over a year on the board since appointed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, said the university's role in the state should be aimed at satisfying area needs in agriculture and other regionally-oriented needs.

"Basically, we are a regional university," he said.

Shelton, who introduced a motion at a December regents meeting calling for the university's athletic department to balance its budget by May 1976, said he believes the athletic program must continue after this year to live within a balanced budget.

"One way or the other it must be balanced," he said. "We can't run a deficit in athletics without making it up from other sources."

Watkins, who was initially appointed president of WTSU in August 1973, said following his rehiring he will continue to stress in his administration the pursuit of doctoral problems for the university, and programs which will make the university more accessible to regional students of all ages.

"Right now one of the major things I'm working to do is to do everything I know to do to obtain approval by the Coordinating Board of a doctoral program in agribusiness," he said. "I'll be spending a great deal of time to see if we might not be able to get that doctoral program."

He pledged a continued effort to extend the outreach of the university through continuing education programs to other towns in the Panhandle and to continue efforts to make the university more accessible to women students.

Watkins' contract runs out this coming August and his new four-year contract will run from that date.

Regents spent five hours Monday on a lengthy agenda, with the bulk of their time expended in executive session.

Following the session, they announced and formally voted on the creation of a new office, assistant to the president for athletics.

Dr. Jack Bullock, a math professor, and the university's faculty representative to various athletic conferences and associations, was named for the post. He will continue to teach nine hours of math.

Watkins said Bullock will serve as an extension of his office to review all programs in varsity or intercollegiate athletics and recommend action to the president.

Regents also approved the negotiation of a new two-year contract with head basketball Coach Ron Ekker, whose Buffaloes are now leading the Missouri Valley Conference title race.

Watkins is to negotiate the contract with Ekker.

Another motion which passed established an athletic council consisting of two faculty members, two students and area chamber of commerce and athletic booster club presidents.

Shelton said the new council would serve as "an athletic embodiment of the PTA."

The idea of forming an athletic council to help raise funds for the university's athletic program was made by Brac Biggers of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce in the December regents meeting.

Regents, following the executive session, instructed

Watkins to obey in particular one portion of the State Appropriations Bill which refers to the number of hours an assistant professor must teach to earn full pay.

Regents gave no reason for the action and Watkins had no comment on the action following the meeting.

The portion of the law to which regents referred mandates that full pay may be allocated for associate professors who teach not less than nine semester hours.

During their regular session, regents tabled recommendation that a new 3500 square foot home be constructed by the university for Watkins.

Regent Don Curry questioned the advisability of constructing a new home for the president, noting that in 1972 when regents sold the old university president's home, they did so believing the board would be more flexible in offering alternatives to future presidents.

He said the board at that time also felt the posting of a housing allowance was sufficient for a president to own his own home.

Curry also questioned the proposed size of the home recommended for Watkins, saying 3500 square feet would not provide enough space for living and entertaining.

T.L. Roach, Wallace Harrell and Mrs. L. Sims were appointed by Shelton to explore the possibility of new home construction and to report back to the board.

Watkins told regents he would favor the construction of a new home even though it would mean the loss by him of a $13,000 per year housing allowance and an income tax break.

Regent Dee Osborne asked that the administration provide each regent with a list of all fund-raising activities now being conducted by the various parts of the university, stressing his opinion that regents should have input on the priorities given each fund-raising activity.

Osborne said it might be possible for funds to be sought in one area which the regents considered of lower priority than another area.

In other business, the regents:

*Tabled an amendment to their by-laws changing the constituency of a board executive committee and changing the terms of office of regent officers.

*Voted to name the new fine arts building the Mary Moody Northern building, since the Moody Foundation donated a substantial sum toward construction of the building.

*Hiked dormitory room rates for the 1976-77 school year.

Hearings to air protests

Two public hearings have been set in mid-February to air protests by South Randall County and South Plains farmers concerning the issuance of weather modification permits to two associations.

Charles Nemir, acting executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, said Tuesday a public hearing will be conducted on Feb. 10 in Plainview on the request for weather modification permit of Plains Weather Improvement Association of Hale County.

Another public hearing will be conducted on Feb. 12 in Littlefield on a similar request by a Littlefield weather modification firm.

Nemir said the exact time and place of the hearings has not yet been set.

More than 600 farmers and ranchers signed petitions last month and early this month protesting the requests of the two organizations for four-year hail suppression programs. The requests for permits are pending before the water development board until following the hearings.

Nolon Henson and Walter Graham of the Happy Hereford Ranch in South Randall County spearheaded the drives to protest the weather modification plans. They contend the activities inhibit rainfall in South Randall County and other areas.

Randall County commissioners have also gone on record in a resolution protesting the use of hail suppression techniques on the South Plains.

FAMILY LIFE CONFERENCE FEBRUARY 6 - 7

In our day, the family has a crying need. Divorce is a critical problem. Paul Harvey recently quoted a study which had determined that 1 of every 3 couples presently married would be divorced within the next 5 years.

Families are in financial bondage — caught up in the snare of the world system — not knowing how to get free!

Families are torn apart by the fast pace of life — with such a great number of activities in different directions.

Families are heartbroken because of rebellious and self-centered children who want to go their own way!

To help solve this problem--we want to provide training in spiritual principles for the home and allow close fellowship with a visiting team of laymen, trained in this field of the family from Oklahoma City. They will be coming at their own expense to share with you some exciting principles they have been putting into practice in their own families.

MAIN SPEAKERS

Gene & Irma Warr, from Oklahoma City will be speaking on issues of vital concern to all. Mr. Warr is head of the Gene Warr Foundation and is experienced in conducting Family Life Conferences having conducted them both in the United States and other countries.

News staffer wins award

A Canyon News staffer Thursday was awarded second place for investigative reporting by the North Carolina Press Association.

Laurie Telfair won the award for an investigation and news stories of misuse of city funds that led to the resignation of the Raleigh, N.C. city manager and his later conviction on three felony charges.

As associate editor of the Raleigh weekly newspaper, The News-Journal, Telfair directed the investigation and wrote an early story and portions of the major news break. She shares the award with News-Journal reporter Marty Vega, who did much of the investigation and collaborated on the major story.

The initial story was published last June, shortly before Telfair moved to Canyon.

The award was presented Thursday night in Chapel Hill, N.C. at the annual North Carolina Press Association convention and was accepted on behalf of Telfair and Vega by The News-Journal publisher, Paul Dickson.

Telfair has also won awards for news writing from the North Carolina Press Women's Association.

Service awards are given

Announcement was made of the soliciting of information of any families who lived in Swisher County in 1900 or before.

Lloyd Rahlfs closed the banquet by leading the group in the Jaycee Creed.

Becky Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Stubblefield, was installed Worthy Advisor of Happy Rainbow Assembly on Thursday evening with Mrs. George White, installing officer.

George Tirey, Happy Jaycee President, welcomed the guests. He also introduced the City Commissioner and wife, Reggie and Connie Johnson; County Commissioner and wife, French and Nora McGavock; County Judge and wife, Jack and Edna Driskill; and State Representative and wife, Pete and Nelda Laney of Hale Center.

George extended thanks to those Jaycees who had cooked the steaks and to the Happy Jaycee-Ettes for having prepared all the trimmings.

George said that everyone really needs a wife because there are just some things that you can't blame on the government.

In George's resume of the values and goals of Jaycees, he briefly outlined the projects of the past.

Richmond Payne was the first Jaycee President in 1964-65. In the beginning, some of the many projects were the Annual Easter Egg Hunt and the Flag Display on holidays in Happy.

Lloyd Venhaus was the second president in 1965-66. A trailer house was built into a concession stand to finance the Jaycee projects and it was pulled near and far and manned by untold man hours. It was also nicknamed the "tomatoe trailer." (Although a case was never reported.)

Don Magness was president during 1966-67. This was the first year that Happy had conducted the Cancer Crusade. Happy received outstanding first year club in the state of Texas that year.

Tom Henry was president in 1967-68. The Happy Days Celebration was revived during this year and has been going strong every since.

Jim Sellers, president of 1968-69, was the young man with the dream that Happy could have a rodeo arena and laid the foundation for those plans to be fulfilled during his term. The 238th helicopter division was entertained that year in Happy with dinner in the school cafeteria and a tour of area feed yards, etc.

Duane Stubblefield was president in 1969-70. The rodeo arena was finished that year. An education committee to consolidate the schools of Texas was formed that year and Happy Jaycees contacted every Jaycee club in Texas to get the ball rolling to prevent the demise of our smaller schools. Happy Jaycees won a National award for this project. Happy also played host for the only Area Installation Banquets during these years.

Gene Shipman was president during 1970-71. Little League sponsorship was begun that year. Amarillo was host to the State Jaycee Convention and Happy was a co-sponsor in that endeavor. Happy Jaycees furnished the stock, horses, and everything for an All Jaycee Rodeo that was put on at the Bill Cody Arena. It was quite a night!

Norman Freeman was president in 1971-72. Lots of construction was done to the Jaycee Hall that year. All regular projects carried out.

Lloyd Rahlfs was president in 1972-73. Records and Recognition was stressed during the year and the Happy Jaycees really brought home the awards.

Vincent Venhaus, president in 1973-74, involved the Happy Jaycees in helping Wallace Motor Company sponsor Punt, Pass and Kick.

Jim Whitlow, president during 1974-75, led well in a difficult time and held the club together during a time when the economy was giving almost everyone a bad time. The Happy Jaycees chartered a bus and took a bus load to State Convention in El Paso during this year and brought home trophies and certificates of recognition.

George Tirey became the Happy Jaycee President in 1975 and will soon reach another Installation banquet. When the records are complete, they will show a most successful year. Happy Celebration was bigger than ever this year. Every project has had good participation and great results. George has been a great president.

A highlight of Saturday evening's DSA banquet was a movie film of the former parades of Happy Days — complete with cartoon.

Gene Shipman presented this year's awards for distinguished service. These awards are nominated and voted on by each individual club member.

Harman-Toles won the Distinguished Service Award presented to a business. George Tirey accepted the plaque. Happy Jaycees have used the company's machinery and tools in many of their projects.

Don Magness received the individual award and was present to accept it. Don is a past president and still an ardent supporter of the Jaycee club.

After her installation, Becky introduced her parents, her sister, Kaye Lynn, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carter and Louise Stubblefield, and her aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caraway of Tulsa and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter of Amarillo.

Becky dedicated her term to her parents and to her aunt and uncles present. This is a very close family and it was a loving experience. Becky thanked all who had helped her to prepare for her installation and all who had helped during it. She especially thanked Alden Mann, Rainbow Dad, for her corsage for the evening.

Faye Parker presented Mary Stubblefield, retiring Mother Advisor, her Past Mother Advisor's pin.

Faye Hand led the invocation to close the installation. Officers and members retired in drill form and sang "My Rainbow."

Guests were served punch and cakes from crystal service on a dining table covered in a white cloth over yellow, and centered with an arrangement of white daisies, yellow roses and gold tapers. On the wall behind the table hung Becky's plaque depicting her term. It was a circle bearing a circle of friendship, the motto within, and trimmed in ribbon and flowers.

About ninety guests attended the installation.

They start about 9:00 (or is it 8?). And it is entertaining.

EULA AND T.J. Bonds recently entertained in their home with a 42 party. Present for the evening were Luther and Ella Hollabough, Vera and Bill Eubanks, Dee and Nora Taylor, Gertrude and Bob Sims, Ruth Aiken, Bertie Culp and Eula and T.J.

THOSE HAPPY COWBOYS scored to beat Lazbuddie on Friday evening of last week at Lazbuddie by a big margin, but the Cowgirls lost by one point.

MR. AND MRS. Lonnie Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loring, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caraway were among those vacationing in Las Vegas this week.

THAT WAS CHOCTAW, Oklahoma, where you will find Raymond Rogers and he really is the president of the bank.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES were hostess to the Area Jaycee-Ette meeting held in Amarillo last Thursday evening. After a business meeting in which club reports were given, everyone made yellow roses to give away at the national convention.

Texas Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes want everyone to have a "yellow rose of Texas." Present for the meeting were Judy Shipman, Joy Freeman, Kay Venhaus, Tanya McCauley, Skip Simons, and Jeanne Johnson.

LYNN AND STEVE Gaylord spent the week end with the Doty Foster family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bachman of Guymon, Oklahoma, spent the earlier part of this week with Doty Foster and her family.

WE ARE AT the National Cattlemen's and CowBelle's Convention in Phoenix, Arizona, this week and Mom is minding the family. (Or she's minding them one.)

Road trip crucial to Buffs' season

It may not be the most important road trip in school history, but West Texas State's two-game trip to Wichita State and Drake this week must rank right up there with the most crucial.

The Buffs, leading the Missouri Valley Conference with a 3-0 record, meet the pre-season favorite for the league title tonight in Wichita, and then head for a regional television appointment with Drake Saturday afternoon in Des Moines.

"It will be a good test for our team," understates WT Coach Ron Ekker. "Both Wichita State and Drake are excellent teams, but then every team in the Valley is an excellent team. Every game for us is crucial from here on in, and we'll have to keep playing well to win."

In addition to that perfect MVC record, the Buffaloes will take a 13-2 season ledger into Henry Levitt Arena tonight for the shoot-out with the Shockers. Coach Harry Miller's WSU team stood at 8-7 before a Monday night date with nationally ranked Cincinnati. At home this year, Wichita has a 7-1 record.

"They are off to a slower start than usual this year, but they still have an exceptional team," Ekker adds. "It's a tough job beating them at home."

The Shockers boast one of the better centers in the league in 6-10 junior Robert Elmore, but WT should be able to match-up well with 6-10 senior Dallas Smith, the league's top defensive big man with an average of 4.7 blocked shots per MVC game.

It will also be a homecoming for WT's Brad Schreck and Mike McBride. Schreck, a 6-6 junior starter at forward, prepped at Wichita's Kapaun High, and McBride, a 6-3 freshman guard, played his high school ball at Wichita Southeast.

Then it's on to Des Moines for the regional television game with Drake's Bulldogs. Drake was unbeaten at home prior to Monday's game with St. Louis, this on the heels of the title in last year's NCIT in Louisville.

The Bulldogs also have a great individual player in forward Ken Harris, the MVC's top scorer with a 22.0 point per game average. Guard Napoleon Gaither and center Rod Littlepage are also averaging in double figures.

"They have a fine player in Harris," Ekker says. "Drake has an excellent scoring team, much like Bradley. It will be vital that we play good defense."

Following the trip to Wichita and Des Moines, the Buffs come back to Amarillo for a pair of home games on Feb. 5-7. On Feb. 5, North Texas State comes to town with its run-and-gun offense for a non-conference game, and on Feb. 7 the Buffs host New Mexico State in a rematch of this month's 61-59 WT win at Las Cruces.

Young farmers at convention

Randall County Young Farmers Association was represented at the 22nd annual state convention of Texas Young Farmers held in the Astrodome at Houston during January.

The local Young Farmers were recognized as a new chapter at the convention and were represented there by George Cox and Lloyd Kurtz, voting delegates, with Lee Moore of Canyon High School, sponsor, also attending.

State Representative Joe L. Hubenak, chairman of agriculture and livestock committee, was the convention speaker. The two-day convention was devoted to studying new methods for promotion of agriculture with delegates attending from across the state.

Regular meetings of the Randall County Young Farmers are held on the third Thursday monthly in the Vocational Agriculture Building at Canyon High School.

Christian Church

(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)

You might say the Disciples were born in a log cabin. In Kentucky at a place called Cane Ridge. Or in Pennsylvania in a little church at Brush Run.

Kentuckian Barton W. Stone in 1804 ended Presbyterian ties to become a "Christian only." Thomas Campbell, and son Alexander, also Presbyterians, founded the Brush Run Church in 1811, seeking union of all Christians on a simple, non-theological basis.

Their followers shook hands and merged in 1832 at Lexington, Ky. The movement spread rapidly along the frontier. Evangelist Walter Scott provided energy. Alexander Campbell the philosophy and statesmanship. From the window of his Bethany study, Campbell dreamed, and shaped a movement.

Two Buffs starters will get to play for home folks at Drake, Wichita

While West Texas State will be trying to extend its Missouri Valley Conference winning streak on the road this week, two Buffalo starters will actually be playing before the home folks.

Senior center Dallas Smith, the Buffs' leading scorer and rebounder, prepped at North High in Des Moines, while junior forward Brad Schreck played his high school ball at Kapaun High in Wichita.

Smith has been home before when the Buffs played Drake, but for Schreck, it will be the culmination of a life-long dream when he steps onto the court at Wichita State's Henry Levitt Arena.

Three years ago, Schreck was averaging 21 points and nine rebounds per game at Kapaun, but WSU Coach Harry Miller told a local newspaper that there was no high school player in the city talented enough to play for the Shockers.

Brad vividly remembers that. "I always wanted to play for Wichita State," he recalls. "I can remember growing up and going to watch them play. I remember when they would jam 11,000 people into that place when Dave Stallworth and Nate Bowman played on that super team in 1965. I grew up wanting nothing more than to play for them."

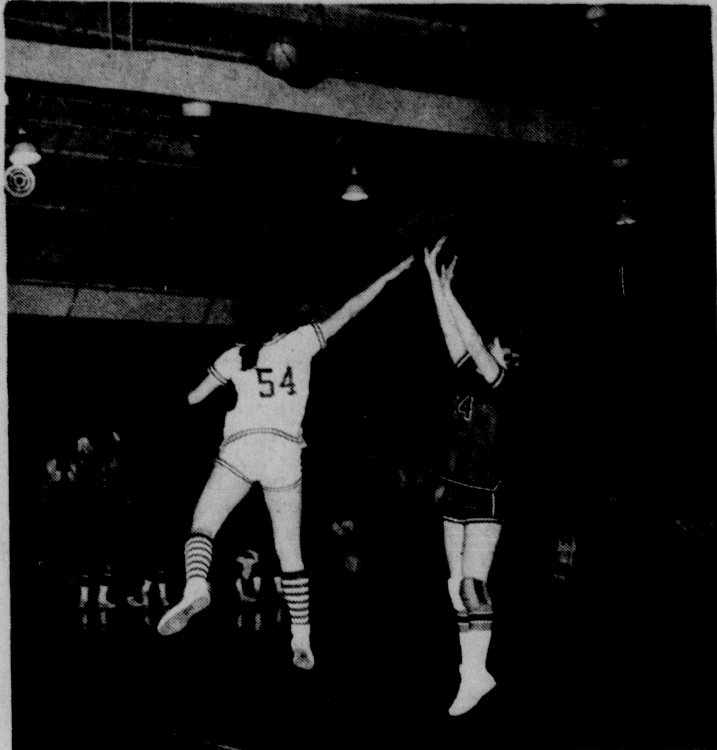

The Shockers never called, and after a season at Rockhurst College in Kansas City, Schreck transferred back to Independence, Kans., Junior College. That's where Buffalo Coach Ron Ekker discovered him.

Potluck meal for SC group

The weekly potluck supper meeting for Canyon Senior Citizens will be held at Canyon Community Center this evening, Thursday, at 6:30 p.m.

All residents aged 55 and above are invited to participate in the organization. Games and fellowship will follow the evening meal.

Blood pressure checks will be available on a weekly basis for Senior Citizens in early February. The service will be provided by the nursing department of West Texas State University and is set for 6 p.m. to precede the regular weekly suppers.

Marci Davis goes up to try to block a shot as the Canyon varsity downs Levelland 94-45 to win the first round in district play.

CHS teams win, win, win

Canyon varsity girls wrapped up the title to the first round of district play in a home game Tuesday, beating Levelland 94-45 and the varsity boys stretched their district record to 3-0 with a 62-54 catch-up win over Levelland boys.

The CHS junior varsity continued a 16-game winning streak with a 71-53 victory.

Levelland girls got in the first shots to grab a 4-2 lead, but they were never a threat after the first minute or so.

Louise Davis led the Canyon scoring with 31 points, followed closely by Robena Johnson with 29.

Also in the double figures were Glenda Williams with 11, Becky Williams with 10 and Deede Johnson with 10. Tammy Bluet had three points for the night.

Girls' coach Bob Schneider has a grading system for his guards, with 14 or 15 being a good score. He rated Mary Johnson at 19 for the evening and Marci Davis at 18.

Johnson and Davis each got five rebounds.

"Rene McDonald also had a very good night," Schneider said. Canyon girls made 58 per cent of their shots from the field and upped their percentage at the foul line to 14 out of 22 attempts, or 64 per cent.

"This is an improvement over our last few games," Schneider said. "And maybe we'll improve more before district is over. I'd like to see 75 per cent."

"We got in too big of a hurry and had more turnovers than I like. We had 18 turnovers and that is nine or ten more than I like to have," he said.

"Levelland was quick," he went on. "We had our defense break down a little. We weren't quite prepared for that kind of quickness."

The Canyon girls will have an open date Friday and then will begin the second round of district play here Tuesday against Dumas for their last home game.

Statistically, CHS girls top previous records

Although good girls' basketball teams are the rule at Canyon High School, statistically, this year's varsity team has the edge.

Their shooting from the field has averaged 58 per cent so far this year, compared to last year's average of 53 per cent and they are scoring an average of 76 points a game, compared to 73 points last year.

"If they continue shooting and scoring as they have done, they'll have the best averages in those areas," said Coach Bob Schneider.

Canyon girls, following the Muleshoe game Friday night, were undefeated this year, with a 27-0 record. However, said Schneider, this was not unusual. Last year, the CHS girls went unbeaten until the last game of the state tournament. They lost that one to become state runner-up.

In the last seven years, Canyon girls have been state champions three times, in 1969, '72 and '74 and runner-up the other years.

The majority of the team are returning starters from last year. Leading scorer Robena Johnson was all-state forward last year while Louise Davis, Becky Williams and Marci Davis were named all-district. Deede Johnson was on the second team for all-district.

Others on the team are Mary Johnson, a sophomore, who is the leading rebounder, averaging five a game.

"She is only 5-6 but she has an exceptional jumping ability," Schneider said.

Lisa Cathey, a junior, is averaging two rebounds a game and Marci Davis, a senior, is snagging four.

Reserve guards are Kim Howell, Rene McDonald, Melinda Jones and Sharon Brown.

Tammy Blewett, a reserve forward, is averaging two points a game and Becky Williams' average is nine points.

"Louise Davis and Becky Williams are shooting a better percentage than last year," Schneider said. "They are showing more poise and confidence."

Davis is averaging 20 points a game, backing up Robena Johnson with 30.

"Deede Johnson, a junior, comes off the bench and has been improving every game. She has gotten a lot stronger," said Schneider.

"I feel like our guard play has been improving with each game. We play pressure defense and we're working on playing good pressure defense without fouling. We need to work on that more," he said.

A good part of the credit for Canyon's success is due to the extra effort the girls put into the game, the coach said.

"We had good leadership this year from our seniors, Louise and Marci and Robena. I think the leadership you get from your seniors is just invaluable. They did a good job of keeping the kids together and working this summer. The kids work hard in the summers and on the off season and that's what makes our teams as good as they are. It's the effort they don't mind putting into it," Schneider said.

Schneider said he wanted to see improvement in the team free shot average, which is only 59 per cent.

"I think they should be hitting 75 per cent," he said.

Only three more games remain in the regular season. Two are on the road and the last home game is against Dumas on Feb. 3 starting at 6 p.m.

Siesta
Noticias

By DORIS MCKEE
GREETINGS FROM SIESTA. As I sat at the typewriter this week it was a very cold morning, but the sun was shining beautifully, and the weatherman had promised us a very pleasant day.

Have looked and talked to people around the park but seems no one is going or having much company right at this time. So guess this will be one of those short columns.

AS I CAME from town on Tuesday morning early, I met Kathy Burgan taking her girls to school, so as of this writing there is still no bundle of joy around the Burgan household.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY will be meeting this week but it was too late to get a report in this time. Will bring you all the details next time. We certainly do want to encourage all the ladies in Siesta to take an interest in our community and to participate in the works of the Auxiliary.

Would like to impress upon people that fires can be prevented if everyone is careful and makes necessary checks from time to time. Never allow your children to play with matches. It is a very good idea to keep all matches and lighters put up out of sight and reach. Never leave a cigarette laying on an ash tray, be sure to snuff it out. Don't smoke in bed. Be sure to check your furnace frequently and keep it clean of any dust particles. Keep a very close check on your hotwater heater. Check your appliance cords often for wear. These are just a few of the things you need to watch out

DWI, drugs bring arrests

Six persons were arrested over the weekend for drug and alcohol law violations. Michael Scott Ponder, 17, and Robert Charles Steele, 18, both of Lubbock, were arrested Friday night, along with a 16-year-old who was turned over to juvenile authorities. The three were charged with possession of marijuana. Bond was set at $500 for Ponder and Steele.

A Canyon man was charged with driving while intoxicated following a one-car accident early Saturday morning at the US 60 and US 87 interchange. Bobby Michael Kimbrough of 1406-8th Street, No. 14, pleaded guilty in county court and was fined $100 and was placed on probation for a year.

Michael Alden Word, 18, of 405 Thompson Lane pleaded guilty in county court after being arrested early Sunday morning for driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and placed on probation for six months.

His brother, William Timothy Word, 17, who was a passenger in the vehicle, pleaded guilty in municipal court to public intoxication and was fined $70.

Gospel music here Saturday

Contemporary gospel music will be presented by Donny Monk and Friends Saturday evening, Jan. 31, in the auditorium of First Baptist Church of Canyon. The gospel music program is open to all ages.

Give your place a fire safety check

SATURDAY NIGHT, JANUARY 24th. Albert and Katie Rinne hosted a housewarming for some very dear friends, Kenneth and Pat Dout, who have just purchased a new home in the Hollywood addition, Kenneth, Pat and family moved here a few months back from Cleburne, Texas.

TALKED TO FAYE Risner Tuesday morning. She and Peck had been to Marietta, Okla. to visit their son and family, James Jr., Lee, Heather and Dawn Risner. Faye said they had a very enjoyable time. On Monday Peck and Faye drove to Oklahoma City, to the V.A. Hospital, where Peck had a checkup on the recent nose surgery they had done. Faye said everything was very good, and she didn't know of any reason now that Peck couldn't get back to work.

MONDAY NIGHT, JANUARY 26th. Pat Reed held a Sarah Coventry jewelry party in her home. There was lots of visiting, and the coffee pot was either empty or making all the time.

Clemi Blackburn was the jewelry hostess. Those attending were, Billie Stancil, Mrs. Zipper, Carol Hulsey, and Norma Long all of Amarillo, Pearl West, Monica Noel and daughters, Barbara and Elaine, all of Country Estates, and Diana Hoffman and myself of Siesta. Everyone had a very good time.

MARTY HOFFMAN who plays on the 8th grade purple boys basketball team really enjoyed the tournament this past weekend. They had some very close games.

On Thursday they played at 10:30 a.m. where they met with Hereford. Hereford won by a 29 to 26 score.

On Friday they played at 3:30 p.m., and went up against Borger South. I didn't get this score but it seems Canyon did win this game.

On Saturday morning, at 9:00 a.m. they met Borger North. This was a very good and close game. It seems there was an overtime played, and Borger North did win by a 40 to 37 score.

THE BOY SCOUTS, troop 77, have changed their meeting days. They now meet on Thursdays, in the recreation building at 7 p.m. There was one new member this last week, Dennis Weed.

Most of the discussion was about the up-coming camp-out set for Saturday, Jan. 31. It will be an all-day event.

Be sure to keep up with their activities, because they will be having some events in the future that everyone in the park can participate in. Lets support our Boy Scouts and our Cub Scouts.

IN ABOUT THREE weeks the school bond election will come up. I would like very much to ask that each and everyone, please keep up on it and by all means be sure to cast your vote. There is and will continue to be much controversy over this election. Please weigh all the pros and cons.

If you don't have the answer ask someone. Don't take just hearsay and for goodness sakes get involved now. Our children must have sufficient room in order to get the most out of their education. Always remember that today's children are the leaders of tomorrow. Lets give them every chance.

OH YES, JEAN Mayfield was very excited this past week, about having daughter, Teri, home. Teri was attending a special school in Lubbock but is now home and attending ACS. Know Jean and Phil are very happy to have her staying home now.

GUESS I WILL sign off for now and hopefully be able to find some news for next week. Maybe someone will go someplace or invite someone to come visit. Keep on Reading. Thought for this week, "people grow old, but some of them never grow up."

See ya.
